Brief History of the College

Acharya Brojendranath Seal¹ College has a chequered history of more than 130 years. It was founded in 1888 by Maharaja Nripendra Narayan, the then ruler of the Princely State of Koch Bihar and an enthusiast in expanding the culture of learning in this region. The Maharaja originally named the college after Queen Victoria to commemorate the years of the Queen's coronation. It is worthwhile to mention here that, Maharaja Nripendra Narayan married to Sunity Devi, daughter of Sri Keshav Chandra Sen, a leading social reformer, educationist and the pioneer leader of Brahma Samaj movement, during the Renaissance period of Bengal. Sunity Devi along with her husband took keen interest in developing the academic atmosphere in this region which resulted in the foundation of Victoria College as a centre of higher studies. Incidentally after the independence of India, the Princely State of Koch Bihar came under Bengal Presidency in 1948 (it was finally merged with West Bengal on the 1st January, 1950) and Victoria College was also taken over by the Government of West Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICS

Brief History of the Department

Acharya B.N. Seal College was established in 1888 with an aim to promote higher education in Eastern and North-Eastern regions of India. Right from its inception, the Intermediate course in Science (I.Sc.) was introduced in the college. Later, the B.Sc. (General Course) was initiated to be taught during 1923-1924. Honours Course in Physics was introduced in the year 1969 and since that time itself the classes for Honours Degree Course were conducted in the famous heritage building of the college. In the same year 1969, the Centenary building came up into being with its inauguration on the occasion of commemoration of birth centenary of Acharya B.N. Seal. Gradually the classes for the Honours Degree Course got shifted to the Centenary Building, which, at present houses the whole of Physics Department including its Laboratories.

This department has a rich history of producing bright and meritorious students who, through their research, academic and educational activities, have glorified its ever shining history and lifted the stature of the College as well. After completing the undergraduate degree from this department, many of our outgoing students get absorbed to work at different leading and pioneer research and educational institutions in India like TIFR, HRI, BARC, SINP, IITs and JNU etc. A few of them also achieved recognition from renowned institutions abroad where they got absorbed for academic work. Owing to such sustainable success, this department has become a centre of excellence for its potential in the process of imparting Honours Degree Course education in Physics.

CENTRAL LIBRARY

A Brief History:

The Cooch Behar Victoria College was established in the year 1888. On the day of 15th June 1888 the College officially started its journey. From that very year the College was granted Rs. 10,000/- as a special grant for building its infrastructure including Library, Furniture & Laboratory etc. In the next year the College received Rs. 2000/- under the same head.

There were two buildings, made with the help of British Architecture for the Britishers, in the heart of the city on the East of the Bairagi Dighi. From 1879-80 Ms/ Merrilier Company and Edwards had started to build a luxurious palace for the then Cooch Behar Maharaja and his family. The above mentioned buildings were the abode of the English architects and other staff, who came to supervise the construction work. In 1887 the British Architects returned to their home after the palace was completed. Then the Company sold those two buildings to the Cooch Behar Royal Authority in 20,000 rupees. Those buildings are the birthplace of the Victoria College. In the month of June of 1888, the College was started in those buildings. In 1894 – 95 the Veranda of the second building was covered with glass and turned as the first library of the college.

In the first phase (1889 – 90) The College Clerk performed the duty of the College Librarian.

In 1926 the Central Hall of the present main building of the College was converted to College Library as well as Students' Reading Room.

Since the 1st January 1950 the Victoria College became a government college under the Government of West Bengal. The staff pattern of the College of that year showed one post of Librarian.

A three-storied building was started to be constructed in the memory of Acharya Brojendra Nath Seal in his birth centenary. The building was completed in the year 1969 and named as 'Acharya Brojendra Nath Seal Centenary Block'. In 1973 the Physics Department, Mathematics Department and Library were shifted in that newly made block.

The Central Library of the College was finally shifted to a two-storied building in the north-west side of the College campus in July 1999.
