B. N. Seal Journal of Science invites original research papers for its upcoming Volume. While preparing the manuscript, authors are requested to strictly comply with the format of the journal which is available on the description provided below.

Preferred Style Guide

Abstracts

Abstracts are a common feature of manuscripts written in usual scientific style guides. They are a general overview of the manuscript that highlights the major points and issues.

Abbreviated terms

Abbreviated terms should be defined in full when they first appear, with the abbreviated form in brackets. If the term is used in the abstract, it should be redefined again when it first appears in the main text.

Citation styles

The basic format for a journal article includes the author's name, the article title, the journal name, the date, and the volume, issue number, and page numbers. However, not all journals use issue numbers.

Authors are requested to send the articles to bnsealjournalofscience@gmail.com within 16/11/2024.
